Your first step (after reading through our material) is to contact an agency that serves your county, listed below. Once you choose an agency, they will get you started on the next steps (most likely filling out an application and signing up for training classes). All agencies can vary slightly (staff, training schedules, location) so we highly recommend that you call a few for some basic information before you make a selection. (Find questions to ask agencies inside of the Foster Care and Adoption Information Guide). Please feel free to contact us at any point with questions. We would love to help!
